

"THE YOUNG MAN CHRIST LOVED"

Dr. Lucien Warner of New York spoke to an audience of both men and women yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Hall. His subject was "The Young Man Whom Christ Loved" and he sketched interestingly Biblical history up to the coming of Christ. The early Jews to whom God's first words were directed, he said, formed but one-tenth of the human race. Yet they were still idol worshippers to a large extent, and the sermons of the powerful preachers of that day were directed against that form of worship. After the return from Babylon there was more of the true Christian spirit and "in the fullness of time Jesus came," when the people had reached such a stage of spiritual development as to be prepared for the new religion.

Then he told of the gospel of Jesus, how He offered two Roman youths the opportunity to become His disciples. One of them was rich and refused to give up his riches to follow Jesus. But the other cast aside money, social position and all and united with the low and despised Christians. Dr. Warner said that the idea that the Christian had to give up everything for the purpose of earning a rest hereafter was not correct.

"Christ," he said, "doesn't offer any such bargain. He offers to return it to you a hundredfold. Christ is a good paymaster. He pays His children in the satisfaction and real, solid enjoyment they get in this life, as well as in peace hereafter."

Snatched a Doughnut.

Harold had been sent to the house of a friend of his mother, and had been told to hurry home the moment the errand was done. When he reached the home of Mrs. B. he found the family about to sit down to supper, and on the table was a plate of tempting-looking doughnuts, a dainty of which Harold was particularly fond.

"Will you not stay and eat supper with us, Harold?" asked Mrs. B.
"No, ma'am, thank you," said Harold. "I haven't time. In fact, I've scarcely time to take one of those doughnuts."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A few cars made the trip, but track repairs are needed and the cars took the usual course all day. The change is expected to-day.

Mrs. Louisa Sebree, mother of Capt. Uriel Sebree, U. S. N., who died at Fayette, Mo., on April 28, was born in Howard county, Mo., May 13, 1821, within a dozen miles of where she has lived all her life. She was married to John P. Sebree when she was 18 years old. Since her husband's death, 20 years ago, she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. John Farrington, at Fayette, Mo. Of her ten children, one daughter and four sons are now living. Her last letter, written ten days ago to her son, Captain Sebree, is as bright and cheerful as any of the 2,000 or more she has written him during the last 40 years. Notwithstanding her advanced age, she was as bright in her mind as ever, and very active.—Army and Navy Journal.

Reflections for a Rejected Ms.

It's no use crying over spilt ink.
Too many books spoil the market.
A roving MS. gathers no dress.
Spare the style and spoil the paper.
Put a minor poet on Pegasus—he'll write like the devil!
Fine "puffs" do not make fine books.
Take care of the agreements—the publishers will take care of themselves.
It's an ill critique which blows no author any good.

(For the magazine editor)—Bread I win—Tales you lose.

(For Sir Conan)—A botched plot—never Doyle's!

—Arthur Layard in the Author.

Heffelfinger, the once famous kicker of the Yale football team, to whom President Roosevelt offered a place on the Civil Service Commission, was recently in Washington, D. C., looking over the ground. It is said that on learning the duties which would fall to him as a member of the commission, he was sorely disappointed, and went back to his home in Minneapolis with the President's offer still under advisement. Speaking of his disappointment, he said: "When I came down here I thought my job as civil service commissioner would be finding out infractions of the law and kicking people out of the government service. Now I find that most of my work would be getting people into office. There's no fun in that. I'd rather kick them out."

BURGLARIES.

GRIFENHAGEN BROS. & CO., Wholesale Dealers in Bottles. New York, January 2nd, 1903.

Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co., New York. Gentlemen: We thank you very kindly for your prompt attention in sending one of your men to open our safe this morning. We also wish to congratulate you upon the quality of your burglar-proof safe, as the burglars who entered our place must have worked all night and could not open the doors, and left without accomplishing their purpose. When the detectives arrived this morning to inspect the work they claimed it was done by professional cracksmen and told us that if it had been a safe of any other make the burglars would have got in by the way they worked on our safe. We thought we would write you this good news as we consider ourselves fortunate. We remain, Yours respectfully,
